MALCOLM JENNINGS DIES IN COLUMBUS

FORMER MARION NEWSPAPERMAN IS FOUND DEAD

Heart Disease Fatal to Secretary of Ohio Manufacturers' Association

FORMERLY WITH STAR

Closely Associated with Late President Harding; Made Alaskan Trip

Malcolm Jennings, 62, former business manager of The Marion Star and secretary of the Ohio Manufacturers' Association was found dead in his bed at his home in Columbus this morning.

Death was due to heart disease and followed an illness of several weeks. Mr. Jennings had been in failing health, however, for some months and friends were solicitous about him when he last visited in Marion Memorial Day. He came here then to be present at the [illegible] exercises of the Harding Memorial Tomb.

Mr. Jennings was business manager of The Star in 1909 and part of 1910, leaving the paper after the Harding campaign for governor.

Accompanied Harding

He was a personal friend of the late President Harding and had accompanied the presidential party to Alaska just previous to the president's death. He was in the hotel at San Francisco when the sudden death of President Harding occurred.

On leaving The Star Mr. Jennings became secretary of the Ohio Manufacturers Association holding this post then until his death. He also was a director of the Harding Publishing Co.

Mrs. Edward K. Uhler, 445 S. Main st, was making plans to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jennings today when she received word of Mr. Jennings' death.

Born in Marietta

Mr. Jennings was born in Marietta and moved to Columbus when only 12 years old. Later his family moved to Athens, where he began his career as a newspaper man. He first learned the printers trade and later became a writer.

From 1901 to 1909 Mr. Jennings was owner and editor of The Lancaster Gazette. During that period he also was clerk of the state senate. Later Mr. Jennings came to Marion where his acquaintanceship with President Harding began.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel Dunn Jennings.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed as yet.

POLICEMAN KILLED, TWO OTHERS SHOT IN HOLDUP

One Well-Dressed Bandit Shot in Back and Head, Companion Captured

Indianapolis, Ind., July 9—One policeman was shot and killed, one citizen probably fatally wounded and one of two well-dressed bandits who attempted a daylight holdup at a downtown hotel was fatally wounded in a gun battle here today.

Entering the Bevers Hotel through a rear entrance the two bandits demanded money. Proprietor L. F. Beyers pulled a revolver and began firing at them when they became frightened and fled to an automobile parked near the State House, one of the bandits receiving wounds in the back and head.

The dead policeman was John F. Buchanan, traffic man, who joined in the chase for the second bandit who was captured by other officers. During the gun fire Paul Shafer, 30, citizen who assisted in the capture, was probably fatally wounded.

"I Killed Him Because He Stole My Wife," Says New York Man

New York, July 9—Frans Katz, [illegible] a leather dealer, slashed Benjamin Holtzman, 40, to death early today while Holtzman slept in his apartment according to police.

"I killed him because he stole my wife," Katz told police when arrested later at the home of his mother. When arrested after a struggle he was washing crimson stains from his hands, police said.

Holtzman's jugular vein was severed and the upper part of his body [illegible] with a dull knife, the medical examiner reported.

Mrs. Katz left her husband two months ago taking her baby daughter with her, detectives learned. Holtzman formerly boarded at the Katz home.

OHIO CONTINUES TO SWELTER IN JULY HEAT WAVE

Five Deaths Directly Due to Hot Weather Reported in Ohio

CROWD BATHING BEACHES

Priest, Four Children Drowned While Seeking Relief from Intense Heat

Cleveland, O., July 9—Ohio continued to swelter in mid-July weather today although the official weather forecasters held out promise of relief in the form of thunder showers during the afternoon.

Temperatures of 90 degrees or better were being duplicated today over most of the state after yesterday's warm weather. The peak of the heat wave was expected to reach northern Ohio this noon. At 9 0 this morning the thermometer here registered 82 degrees as compared with yesterday's maximum of 89 degrees.

At least four Ohioans have lost their lives as the result of the hot spell.

In Cleveland Walter Huber, a 11 year old high school boy, was drowned in Marshall Lake.

At Port Clinton, Father Benedict L. Barber, 29, of Fostoria was drowned in Lake Erie.

At Zanesville Cavender Grisson, 37, was drowned in the Muskingum river.

At Toronto, Ohio, Freda Shaver was drowned when she swallowed her chewing gum while swimming.

At [illegible] W. [illegible] McQuillan was drowned in the Ohio river.

City bathing beaches entertained huge crowds again today as Cleveland's sweltering thousands sought relief. Addi[illegible]

TEMPERATURE MAY RISE ABOVE 90

Indications that the mercury in Marion's official thermometer will soar above the 90 degree mark this afternoon was seen at 1 0 o'clock when 89 degrees were recorded by Dr. [illegible] H. Riffens, government official weather observer.

At 1:30 o'clock the thermometer showed 88 degrees. Yesterday's high temperature was 89 degrees while the mercury dropped to 71 during the night.

The only 90 degree weather in Marion this year occurred several weeks ago.

Thundershowers were forecast by the state weather bureau for tonight.

SHEIK BANDIT'S CASE SOON TO REACH JURY

Final Arguments Made by State and Defense in Durkin Trial

Chicago, July 9—The case of the people of Illinois against Martin James Durkin, "sheik" shooting shiek, charged with the murder of federal agent Edwin C. Shanahan, will be given to the jury some time late today.

The 12 men must decide whether Durkin was justified in shooting Shanahan as the defense claims, or whether he shot him down in cold blood as the state has sought to prove when the federal agent attempted to arrest Durkin for stealing an automobile.

Eugene McBarry spoke the last word for the defense today, followed by Assistant States Attorney Louis Blumenthal who made the closing argument for the state.

Judge Harry P. Miller will charge the jury and deliver the fate of Durkin into its hands.

TWO WOMEN KILLED AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Third Member of Party Probably Fatally Injured in Crossing Crash

Dayton, O., July 9—Mrs. M. Yale of 1020 Fremont st., Royal Oak, Mich., and Mrs. H. W. Duncan of Detroit, Mich., were killed and H. W. Duncan probably fatally injured when their automobile was struck shortly after noon today by a freight train at the Big Four crossing on the Dixie Highway five miles south of here.

Those who escaped were C. M. Yale, husband of Mrs. Yale, one of the women killed and their two children Marie, 17, and Jeanne, aged 8.

MOTORISTS HELP HIM "MAKE HAY"

Columbus, O., July 9—How a farmer of near Carey, Ohio, removed detour signs on Route 22 near there last week-end and then charged motorists [illegible] cents each to drive through a meadow on his farm to avoid returning over the three mile strip of bad road was revealed in a report on file in the state highway department today.

A bridge is being rebuilt on the road and the road was blocked and marked. It was estimated 2,000 paid the toll for crossing the meadow, according to the report.

IDENTIFY MAN WHO COLLECTED FINES ON ROAD

Investigation at Kenton Showed McCracken Was Fining Autoists, Whysall Says

WILL RETURN MONEY

Traffic Officer Still on Duty Today, On Job About Two Weeks

The mysterious "C. M." who according to reports has been operating an unauthorized wayside court for speeders on the Harding Highway near Kenton is Clarence McCracken, city speed officer at Kenton, George Whysall, president of the Marion Automobile Club said today.

The identity of the man was discovered as a result of investigations carried on by the Marion Automobile Club and Kenton officials and culminating in a meeting of the two groups yesterday afternoon at Kenton, Whysall said.

It was said today at a meeting of the board of trustees of the local auto club that the city officer denied working outside the city limits although reports received by Mrs. Gallagher, secretary of the club, stated the speed cop stopped motorists just over the Marion County line in Hardin County.

To Return Money

The report of Howard Guthery, attorney for the Marion Automobile Club, was that the arrests and fines were made by an officer who was new and inexperienced. Guthery would not reveal the name.

Mayor Herron told members of the Marion Auto Club yesterday that he would make every effort to return the money received as fines to those who were victims of McCracken's wayside court, local club trustees said today.

McCracken, it is reported, is the only city speed cop in Kenton and is inexperienced. He denies ever working out side the city. He was still on duty in Kenton today patrolling streets. He has been the traffic officer for two weeks, it is said.

Although McCracken admits stopping tourists and asking for fines as high as $2[illegible], he contends that all arrests made by him were within the city limits of Kenton, it was said today at the meeting of auto club trustees here.

Mayor Herron assured local men yesterday that all complaints in the case would be adjusted and that they should not hesitate to direct motorists through Kenton for fear of a speed trap.

According to reports received here the officer was operating the wayside court over the week-end only and was nabbing many who were not exceeding [illegible] miles an hour.

Two of First Six Bodies Removed From Ill-Fated Submarine S-51 Identified

New York, July 9—The first identification of one of the naval heroes who lost their lives when the submarine S-51 sank off Block Island last September was made today when authorities announced that the second of the first six bodies removed was that of Lieutenant Frederick D. Foster, of Nutley, N. J.

The gruesome task of recovering the dead was begun shortly afternoon, when the first body was removed from the engine room as the vessel lay in dry dock at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Shortly afterward four more bodies were found and carried to the [illegible] the naval hospital. Two of these were badly decomposed.

As the sixth body was removed from its sea tomb another identification was announced. The second man to be identified was seaman John Joseph McCarthy, of New York City.

The black wagon was preceded by two motorcycle policemen and followed by an automobile carrying J. H. Taylor, head of the navy identification bureau at Washington and five naval surgeons including Dr. H. H. Lane.

Dr. Lane said there were three ways in which identification might be made. Through the official identification tag, through clothing if this was not too badly decomposed or finally through examination of teeth and finger prints.

The official naval board of inquiry already in session and those who entered the rammed vessel were instructed to report with what information they had gathered as soon as they emerged. The board is composed of Lieutenant Commander Low, acting as judge-advocate and Captains Hunt and Weaver.

Tomorrow, it was announced, the S-51 will be open to the view of the public, although no one will be allowed actually to enter. A crowd of 150,000 is expected.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur was to arrive at the yard at [illegible] Washington.

BILL MEHLHORN AGAIN PLAYS IN BRILLIANT FORM

Chicago Man In National Open Championship Match Plays Consistent Game

ONLY IN TROUBLE TWICE

Joe Turneson of New York Gives Good Exhibition; Hagen Draws Crowd

Scioto Country Club, Columbus, O., July 9—Bill Mehlhorn of Chicago gave another glittering exhibition in the National Open golf championship this morning in playing the first nine holes of the course in a par 36 which with his 68 yesterday gave him a 27 hole total of 104 and putting the burden of proof strictly on the rest of the field.

The remarkable feature of Mehlhorn's first nine was that he never varied the slightest from the par figures on his score card. He didn't have to be brilliant today, he merely played his golf the way the book told him to do it.

Mehlhorn in Form

Mehlhorn was in trouble only twice and each time he extricated himself without the loss of a stroke. At the sixth, for instance, he placed his second shot in a trap and his third over the green, upon which he waded out in the rough, took a niblick and chipped back so accurately that the ball hit the back of the cup and fell dead.

At the eighth he was in a trap again with his second but another accurate chip shot and two putts got him a par 5.

Mehlhorn was accurate to a fault on the first nine this morning, equalling par all the way with a 36. He got another par 4 at the ninth and sank a 10 footer on the eleventh for a birdie 3.

Then suddenly he became human again. He got a 6 at the twelfth where he was in trap and took two to get out and followed with a 5 on the par 4 thirteenth missing a 3 foot putt. Another missed putt cost him a 5 on the fifteenth.

Mehlhorn's card: Out 434 345 454—36
In 430 54 435—39

Meantime Joe Turnesa of New York had given himself none the worst of it by getting a 36 38—74.

COLLEGE STUDENT HURT IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Youth "Bumming" Way to Pennsylvania Sustains Fractured Skull in Crash

Newark, O., July 9—Harold Austin, 20, student at the University of Cincinnati, is in City Hospital here with a fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

According to his own statement he was bumming his way from Cincinnati to his home in Clarks Green, Pa., although he had $15 and a gold watch in his pocket and was overtaken by two men whose names he doesn't know but who allowed him to ride with them. When they reached Brownsville on the National Road east of here the machine collided with a westbound automobile on a culvert. Both cars were wrecked. One of the men sustained a deep cut across the forehead, but will recover. He gave the name of Wheeler but failed to give his residence.

BUYS NEW RIFLE, THEN USES IT TO END LIFE

Canton, O., July 9—Harry Lee Glaudden, 51, this city, went out yesterday morning, purchased a new rifle, drove back to his home, wired the doors of his garage, placed the muzzle of the rifle against his temple and pulled the trigger with his foot. He died instantly. The body was not found until late last night when search was made after he had failed to reach home. Ill health is attributed as the cause for suicide.

TWO SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE

Columbus, O., July 9—Two men were seriously injured early today when automobiles they were driving, crashed head-on at a street intersection. Sergeant Porter, Native of Scotland, in Army 22 Years; Plans to Re-Enlist

Sixth Term Will Be Completed July 22, When He Will Leave Detachment at Harding Tomb; Aim Is 30 Years of Government Service

TWENTY-TWO consecutive years in the United States army, seeing service in all parts of the country and in many nations of the world and then craving for still more is the case of one of the members of the detachment of the Tenth Infantry stationed at the tomb of the late President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding here.

The man is Acting First Sergeant John C. Porter, who has been on duty at the tomb since the death of President Harding in 1923. His stay at the tomb has been longer than any other soldier in the Tenth Infantry who has been stationed here.

Sergeant Porter enlisted in the U. S. army in 1903. Since then he has re-enlisted five times and has received five honorable discharges. Including the one in which he is now serving he has had five three year enlistments and one seven year enlistment. His present term runs out July 22.

Now with his last three year term expiring this month he will leave the tomb guard. But not to be content with only 22 years of service he plans re-enlistment for the sixth time the day following the ending of his present term. Before reporting for duty, however, he will take a three months' furlough visiting his mother and relatives in Massachusetts.

It is a possibility that he will be stationed in this city again at the tomb when he reports for duty following his furlough this summer. Although well satisfied with the assignment here at the tomb Porter has hopes that he will receive a foreign detail.

A large part of the army life of Porter was spent in the Philippine, Panama and in Texas where he was stationed at the time of the World War.

Porter played a prominent part in the World War serving in two major battles in the Toulon Sector, St. Mihiel, Meuse Argonne, Aisne Marne and Vesle [illegible] At the time of the signing of the

[illegible]

FIRST WRECK, VIOLENCE ATTRIBUTED TO STRIKE

Train Operated by Inexperienced Motorman Jumps Rails; Men Assaulted

New York, July 9—The first wreck and violence directly attributed to the subway strike occurred early today at the South Ferry Terminal of the Lexington Avenue Broadway local lines, where a ten car subway train, operated by a novice motorman, jumped the track and crashed through a concrete wall, setting afire a local train from which passengers escaped by rushing to the tracks and getting to the street via an emergency exit. No one was injured in the wreck.

Immediately after the wreck three newspapermen were assaulted.

Two policemen who were riding in the wrecked train guided the passengers along the tracks to an emergency exit. The third rail was ripped up for 20 feet and seven feet of concrete wall were destroyed. Because of the danger of suffocation from smoke caused by burning insulation and grease that had come into contact with the third rail, passengers improvised gas masks with their handkerchiefs as they walked through the smoke-filled tunnel.

Red lanterns were placed along the tracks to prevent collisions while rescue work was in progress.

LAST MINUTE REPRIEVE SAVES YOUTHFUL SLAYER

Lincoln, Neb., July 9—Donald Ringer, 19-year-old Hastings, Neb., youth, today was snatched from the electric chair when Governor Adam McMullen granted a last minute reprieve.

Ringer was to have been electrocuted between 7:00 and 7:30 o'clock this morning in the state penitentiary here. As preparations were being made for the execution, word came from Governor McMullen granting a reprieve to July 23 when the parole board will meet.

On his reenlistment in 1908 he joined the thirteenth Infantry and was returned to the Philippines. Upon his discharge from the thirteenth Infantry Porter reenlisted with the Twelfth Infantry which at that time was stationed at Buffalo, N. Y.

His next enlistment, which followed his third discharge, was for seven years. During this time he was with the Twelfth, Twenty-ninth, Twenty-third, Thirty-fourth and Forty-second Regiments. Early in the enlistment he was located in the Philippines and the rest of the time was spent in Buffalo, Indiana, Texas, Michigan, North Carolina and France.

When the World War broke out he was sent to a training camp at Camp Custer, Mich., and later transferred to Camp Greene, North Carolina. He sailed to France with the Forty-sixth Infantry, Fourth Division, May, 1918. He returned to United States July 2, 1919 and was stationed at Camp Dodge, Texas until his discharge.

Native of Scotland

He enlisted again at Fort Hayes, Columbus, shortly after his discharge and was placed in the Tenth Infantry. Prior to his assignment to the Marion [illegible] detachment he joined the army for the fifth time.

The longest time that Porter waited after a discharge until he enlisted again was five months. That occurred after he was in the army the first time.

Why all this talk about trial marriages Have we ever had any other kind?

Something tells us that if Aimee McPherson is sufficiently persistent she may snuggle onto a husband yet

Maybe Mr Davis decided to devote his vacation to the [illegible] of the female rule, figuring that it's the ideal time for letting it steam

It has been said that this old world of ours is pretty much the same all over and thus we assume from the number of floods raging over in Europe that the Baptist picnic season must be on at present over there

There is no telling says a writer to what extremes we may go in the name of patriotism He must be thinking about the war bread of eight or nine years ago

Let us hope that when the city council holds its public hearing in the council chamber next Monday evening, it will be prepared to give the approximate tax rate necessary to raise $127 020 for 1927 over the receipts for the present year

'Local Taxes Spread Like Fever' read a headline in Thursday's Cincinnati Enquirer But ninety nine times out of a hundred a fever can be reduced and cured!

Another explanation of the wide dissimilarity of crime records in London and Chicago may be that in the British city assaulting a policeman brings speedy punishment while in Chicago murdering policemen is not only held justifiable by the courts but commendable by a large portion of the citizenship as well

The French franc dropped to two and a half cents yesterday The world has little esteem for the currency of a land which refuses to arrange for the payment of its debts

The Royal society's gold medal for literature was bestowed upon Rudyard Kipling at the society's annual dinner, Wednesday evening Let's hope this medal business doesn't spread Imagine the feelings of a hard working spreader of joy and sunshine in paragraphs chasing about with gaudy decorations like that!

The Chicago Tribune wants the national capital moved to some point out of easy reach of an alien enemy and favors Grand Haven We were about to point out that approach by water from the Canadian border would be easy were Grand Haven selected but fortunately the thought came to us that Chicago may be figuring to have to Great lakes drained by that time

Malcolm Jennings

The passing of Malcolm Jennings of Columbus who was found dead in bed by his wife this morning will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of Marion friends who learned to know him well during the years of his residence here when he served the Star faithfully and well as assistant general manager and secretary of the Harding Publishing company

While the suddenness of his taking comes as a shock Mr Jennings friends and acquaintances have realized for the past year that his health was failing and that unless a marked improvement was soon shown in his physical condition the time for him to meet the final call could not be far away

Malcolm Jennings though for the past ten years the efficient representative of the Ohio Manufacturers association was by instinct and training a newspaper man capable alike as a publisher editor correspondent and a special writer Long the representative at Columbus of a Cincinnati paper he was known to the political life of the entire state which recognized his fearless honesty and faithfulness of purpose in all things He was a partisan at all times but a fair and honest one He was a forceful writer news and editorial alike with a style which charmed but over and above all consideration of the art of writing he ever placed the utterance of truth and fidelity to the right

Long the friend and associate of the late President Harding he gave much of the endeavor of his later life to the advancement of the latter's interests and the friendship of the two remained unbroken till severed by death

We speak for all those on the Star who knew Mac Jennings as all his intimates knew him when we say that none knew him save to have been bettered by association with him He was an honest, fearless, manly man

The Passing of America's Fleets.

The [illegible] came into being [illegible] United States government, by construction or otherwise during or immediately following the war are swiftly passing Hundreds of ships have been sold [illegible] cut up for the metal in them [illegible] purchased and placed [illegible] in ocean passenger and freight service some are under lease to shipping lines and now almost all of [illegible] consequence [illegible] are soon to be offered for sale

From Washington [illegible] that President [illegible] by the shipping board looking to the sale [illegible] in the steamship lines [illegible] the United States lines and the American Merchant line—both of which operate out of New York City on transatlantic routes

The United States lines operate the mighty Leviathan flagship of the fleet and two other former German liners the George Washington and the Republic and the American constructed liners President Harding and President Roosevelt It also operates when she is in service the former German liner Amerika now called the America which was badly damaged by fire while being reconditioned at Newport News

The American Merchant line in turn has eleven ships of approximately 8 000 tons each among them five army transports which were then named after French battleships The five are now known as the American Banker American Farmer American Merchant American Shipper and American Trader Its other ships are the Cappulin Chickasaw City City of Flint Lehigh, Quaker City and West Cannon

The government in addition to these still owns two former German liners the Mt Vernon and Agamemnon and a great number of small ships worthless for transatlantic use but with the passing of the two big lines soon to be offered for sale—and it is no secret that arrangements for their sale have as good as been made—the great fleets which we acquired during and as a result of the war and upon which we expended hundreds of millions of dollars will have passed out of government ownership and control and the one time dream of a mighty American merchant marine will have become a thing of the past

Hundreds of millions expended for shipping which has in great part laid idle and been of some expense while rusting away! Some few ships of our own construction and the larger part of those which we acquired operated at a loss of millions more! All of them soon to be gone for comparatively a mere song! Some of the big tragedies of the sea manifestly are financial

Equality for both the sexes will never arrive says the Columbus Dispatch until the daily newspapers publish pictures of men with their legs crossed particularly those who have just finished transatlantic trips To our mind, the man who even suggests a thing like that should be punished as an accessory to the crime before the fact

We rather judge from the appearance of the Columbus papers as well as the amount of matter on the subject transmitted over press wires that there is something on in the golf line down there

'A simple method of preserving sweet cider without loss in flavor the Cleveland Plain Dealer tells us is being sought through experiments at Ohio State university Wouldn't it be awful should it turn out that that was what that professor was doing at the time he was let out on the assumption that he was manufacturing hootch?

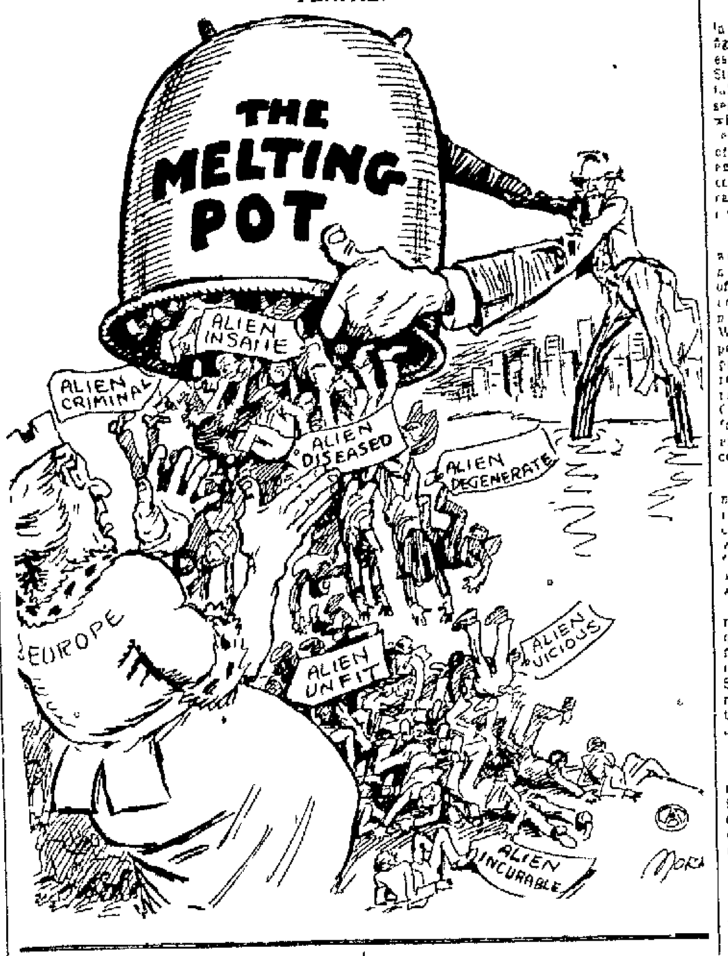
UNCLE SAM: "SORRY, EUROPE, BUT I CAN'T USE THIS MATERIAL."



Rich Blood Stops Baldness.

BY ROYAL S COPELAND M D
United States Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health New York City

A circular about a new method of preserving the hair has just come to me by mail I assume from the reading material that some form of light ray is used to stimulate the scalp

Baldness is an embarrassing affliction It is bad enough when it takes its usual form but if the hair falls out in spots or patches it is worse yet

For many years I have been interested in observing the efforts made by barbers and others to stimulate the growth of hair You can hardly talk to a person without finding him obsessed with some idea explaining the cause of baldness

Let us see if we can consider the matter sufficiently to understand why baldness attacks some persons and does not strike others

The scalp is supplied with blood vessels just as is every other part of the body All these vessels come from below and radiate over the sides and top of the head There can be no growth or preservation of the hair without an unfailing supply of blood

You know how a garden on the side of the hill thrives If it is a wet season the low part of the garden is drowned out If it is a dry season there will be enough moisture in the low ground to cause the plants to thrive but on the high ground from which all moisture drains away the vegetables wither and die

The ideal garden is one which is irrigated and drained in such a way as to supply a uniform quantity of water to every part of the garden Under these conditions the proud possessor of the garden has abundant crops

In a sense the scalp is like a garden Unless it is thoroughly irrigated by a free supply of blood the hair must wither and die There may be a patch of scalp where [illegible] the blood vessels are few in number and small in size This spot will be the first to get the effect of falling hair

With this explanation of the anatomy of the scalp you can see that the prosperity of the hair depends upon a constant supply of rich red blood Anything which interferes with that abundance of blood or anything which interferes with the quality of the blood must have its effect upon the nourishment of the hair

To have good hair there must be a good strong acting heart It must drive the blood to the very top of the head and supply it in great quantities The blood must be pure and rich made so by good eating and the breathing of pure air Vigorous health is the first essential to strong and permanent hair

Vagrant Verse.

MUCH GOODS FOR MANY YEARS

I have much goods laid up for many years
And there is full and plenty in my barns
My purse is filled with gold I shall not want
Come where my feast is spread
The rich man said

I too have hoarded treasures in my time
A young white maiden moon a singing star
A small late wind a drop of early dew
And there is one deep night and one soft dawn
That I shall keep forever in my heart
And once my face was wet with sudden rain
At twilight once I heard a nightingale
And once a hurt child lay upon my breast

I have much goods laid up for many years
A fallen star I gathered long ago
The shadow of an eagle's passing wing
The sound of spring the laughter of a dream
The taste of blessed tears from other eyes

I have much goods laid up for many years
There is a snowy mountain in my heart
And in my heart a green hill far away
And in my heart a blowing cedar tree
I have a memory of wine and bread
And incense burning at the midnight hour
A blessing and a candle and a bell
And strange old tales of beauty strange and old

I have much goods laid up for many years
And there is full and plenty in my heart
My hands are full of songs I shall not want
Come here is wine and bread
The poet said

Habit—A Key to Character.

[Milwaukee Journal]

Most of us are creatures of habits and hobbies If you don't believe it check up on yourself some time Which hand do you wash first which shoe do you take off first just how do you start to comb your hair? You will find that the processes are the same each time Life has been reduced to regular procedure

The same way with the things one likes Ask a man if he has any hobbies and he probably will say that he has not But most men have some things that they like so much that their liking for them amounts to riding a hobby Men whose business it is to detect crime understand this If they can find out the hobbies of the man they are after they are sure that sooner or later they can 'turn him up' He will seek his hobby even at the expense of his freedom

With life so largely a question of habit the importance of forming good habits can not be overestimated And the importance of beginning early with the child The parent or teacher who overlooks derelictions saying, 'That does not matter It was only a little thing' is often thereby assisting in the creation of bad habits And the price to the child is a long adulthood of unsatisfactory habits If there is any one thing that education and parental instruction should do well and can do well it is to form good habits in the child

Who's Who and Why.

ARTHUR CURTISS JAMES

Perhaps the most outstanding of the present generation of railroad owners is Arthur Curtiss James of New York who recently purchased controlling interest in the Western Pacific road He is concerned with 36 5[illegible] miles of track a seventh of the entire mileage of the United States more than that controlled by the great rail financiers Hill Gould and Harriman

Although he is so dominant a figure in the administration of railway affairs he is comparatively little known on Wall street

James was born in New York in 1867 and received his college degree from Amherst in 1889 He is vice president and director of the Phelps Dodge corporation and its subsidiaries He is also a director of the C B & Q railway and the Nickle Plate [illegible] His other interests are the First National bank of New York Northern Securities company trustee United States Trust company [illegible] president and director of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad and subsidiaries

He is also a trustee of Amherst college and is interested in the Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute the American Museum of Natural History Metropolitan Museum of Art New York Public library Children's Aid Society and the Union Theological seminary

Yachts are James' hobby When he became commodore of the New York Yacht club his boat Aloha which carries [illegible] feet [illegible] became flagship He has sailed [illegible] around the world three times and once in 1913 without resorting to use of her [illegible] he sailed her from Sandy Hook to Gibraltar in sixteen days and twenty two hours On the same trip he navigated the White Nile [illegible] ing several antelope and a lion

Although he inherited a vast fortune from his father he started at the bottom of the middle merchant's trade and learned the business thoroughly

Life's Sunny Afternoon

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be."

WITH her children grown up the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women of middle age say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who have learned through their own experience the merit of this dependable medicine are enthusiastic in recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

A woman in Nebraska was troubled with headaches for fifteen years. She writes, "I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have felt my health steadily improving. Today, after taking your medicine for almost a year and a half, I believe I can say the headaches have left me for it is seven months since I had the last one. I am continuing the Vegetable Compound. I am feeling fine now."

This woman is the mother of six children with a large house to care for. Her name is MRS. ADOLPH BRATKE, 4316 South 13th St., South Omaha, Nebraska.

Timkins Talks Too Much After Havana Night Party

Luella Hears Conversation

Lader Fails To Understand Jake's Reference to Minnie, as Wife

The Girl Who Dared
By May Christie

...the queer and fascinating ...its shakes and squirms and

...James Andover and her escort ...a box, and leaning over, ...quaint kaleidoscope upon ...floor.

...at these!" Two young negresses in rose-pink satin, their dark cheeks brilliantly roughed and powdered, their coffee-colored bosoms well in evidence, were dancing with each other, giggling and chattering in Spanish. They wore white kid gloves, and roses in their frizz of matted hair. "Did you ever see so queer a couple?"

With an air of superiority she held a handkerchief up to her nose.

"That awful perfume! It's asphyxiating!"

"Oh, well, you would come here!" said Mr. Timkins sulkily.

She shot a glance at him.

"You'd better come and have a drink. That'll put you in a better humor."

He rose with alacrity, following her into the bar.

And he absolutely refused to budge from there until his partner insisted that if they were to get back to the hacienda at all, they'd better make a move. . . .

"Just you leave that Bacardi! You won't be fit to drive the car," she chided him, annoyed and a little frightened, too. It wasn't in her scheme of things that Jake would run them both into a ditch en route, or rouse the visitors at home once they had got there.

"Aw, wait a minute!" The bailiff hastily consumed another "stiff one" "That warms the cockles of my heart——"

Mrs. James Andover scowled at him. "You're drunk. You stop it, now." She seized his glass when he was offering it to the bar-tender for replenishing.

"Well, if I am, who hauled me here? Didn't I tell you it was no proper place (hic! hic!) "a lady?"

She got him by the arm, and in determined fashion led him out into the night. She found their car and took the driver's seat herself, thrusting him in beside her.

"Now you keep quiet. I'm going to take you home."

With powerful headlights she drove rapidly and well. But dawn was in the sky before they reached the hacienda.

She dropped him at his own quarters, which were a little distance from the house and then hurried to the back door and let herself quietly in and up to her own room, breathing a sigh of relief as she turned the key in the lock behind her.

But she would not have been so thankful had she known what Jake was doing. It was true—as she had said—that he had drunk too much. And he was restless.

With oddly lurching gait he followed Mrs. James Andover. Finding the back door locked against him, he went round to the side of the house, and started softly throwing gravel up against a window that he thought was hers. . . .

"Hi, there!" Doggedly, he went on throwing. . . .

As no one opened to him, he redoubled his efforts, and finally, with drunken exasperation, he picked up a good-sized stone, and, hurling it with vigor, was astonished when it smashed the glass.

Almost immediately a golden head appeared at the window, gingerly raising the broken panes.

"Who's there?" Luella, roused from slumber, had visions of Philip Andover serenading her.

"It's me—Jake Timkins! Minnie let me in! I'm shivered!" He was more than shivered, he was drunk.

"Good gracious!" Luella was astounded. The bailiff—at this hour of the morning—claiming admittance!

"Go away!" she hissed, drawing back a little so that he mightn't see her.

"I won't go away! I've a right to sleep in my own wife's room, I tell you!"

"Your wife?" Luella was so astounded that she popped her head right out of the broken window and stared at him. "Who is your wife?"

He stared stupidly back at her, blinking. Then he burst into silly, drunken laughter.

"Minnie Andover's my wife, and Jerry is my little boy," he muttered.

Chapter XLI.
THE GATHERING STORM

"It was the quaintest thing you could imagine," said Luella to Mary Forrest the following morning. "The man was drunk, and he came below my window about dawn, throwing up gravel. Then he finally smashed the glass with a good-sized stone, and I can tell you I was startled."

"But what was the idea?" queried her companion. She was glad that no midnight intruder had appeared outside her room. "I should have been terrified."

TODAY'S RECIPES

Cream of Celery Soup—Cook the leaves and coarse portions of celery in a small amount of water until tender, put through strainer. Melt two tablespoons flour, add one pint of sweet milk, cook until smooth. Add cooked celery, season and serve.

THE "WATCHED POT"

"A watched pot never boils," they say, because in watching it you remove the cover and part of the heat escapes. Keep on the covers of utensils when it is possible and have covers fit properly.

Croutons—In a frying pan in which there is an inch of boiling fat drop small squares of stale bread. Turn quickly and brown on both sides. Lift from the boiling fat with a skimmer and drain, that they may not be soggy. Serve with hot soup or drop into stewed tomatoes as they are taken to the table.

Celery Stuffing—Make from pimento cheese, the kind that comes in a small jar, and is soft, a few English walnuts and a little mayonnaise. Put nuts through the food chopper, then combine them with the cheese and just enough mayonnaise to soften the mixture. Just a little on each stalk of celery is sufficient.

Green Peas—Choose the peas with all possible care, cook in the smallest possible amount of salted water. Cook as short a time as possible.

Save your money for a rainy day, but you may have more fun by saving it to spend on a sunny one.

A soft answer may turn away wrath, though after one has been hit, it may be the answerer that is soft.

Lucia's Two Letters Reveal Her Murder, Suicide Plot

Notes Tell Story of Plan Which Would Have Meant Death to Three, Followed by Mrs. Meredith's Suicide; Requests That Katherine Read It All

BY ADELE GARRISON
QUICKSANDS OF LOVE

So my wild, monstrous surmise concerning Lucia Meredith's purpose in studying the book of poisons had been justified. I had only time for the swift reflection in the pause which Dicky made in his phonographic report of Dr. Meredith's story at the point where the alienist had mentioned his physician's summoning of the coroner.

"Before Meredith finished," Dicky went on, "he handed me three letters, one addressed 'To Whom It May Concern,' another to Jack Bickett and a third to Dr. Meredith's invalid sister."

A little exclamation of horror escaped me. Dicky nodded gravely.

"Yes, a very unpleasant party, sane or insane," he commented. "Meredith said that they must all be given to Katherine for her to read."

"Oh, how awful!" I gasped. "Why?"

"Wait," Dicky said peremptorily. "Meredith also handed me a package which he warned me contained poisoned candy and a note, both addressed to—can you guess?"

"Philip Searsdale," I breathed.

"I Agreed to Everything"

"Exactly," Dicky answered. "Meredith asked me to destroy the candy and to deliver the note to Searsdale, telling him the story he had related. You see his point, don't you? Meredith himself will not see Searsdale, nor will he come near Katherine, thus avoiding every slightest thing which could give gossiping tongues a chance to wag. He asked me if, later on, when he should have time to write it, if I would dictate a letter to Katherine for him. Of course, I told him yes as I agreed to everything else he asked me, although I protested as much as I dared against compelling Katherine to read all the devilish things which must be in these letters."

"Oh, why must she?" I wailed, unable longer to keep from interrupting Dicky's long drawn-out story.

"Because," Dicky answered, "when Lucia went into the house [illegible] saw her ---"

I [illegible], with a sudden choking at the remembrance of that beautiful drooping figure.

"She told her husband that she was tired and wanted to lie down. He saw that her paroxysm of fury had spent itself, and, helping her to bed—for some inexplicable reason—wasn't it fortunate—the servants all were out—he left her apparently resting. [illegible] and he was out of the room she must have arisen and written two notes, both to him, one very brief—I can remember it—saying, 'Dear Hal: I have learned that there is no cure for me and that I must die. I cannot face that horrible, lingering pain. I am taking the easiest way out. Something seems to have snapped in my brain. Everything is going in circles. Forgive me. Lucia.'"

Dicky Reads Lucia's Note

"The other was this." Dicky drew a bundle of letters from it, selected a hastily-scrawled note and gave it to me. I took it with hands that I tried in vain to keep steady and it took me a long time to decipher it. There was no salutation nor date:

"Knowing you quite well, I am sure you will not disregard this last demand of mine," the note began. "If you will send Philip Searsdale his letter—of course, you will destroy the candy—telling him I tried to take him along with me, and also see that your dear Katherine reads every one of these others, I give you my permission from beyond the grave to give only the pretty, pretty one to the coroner. But I adjure you to remember that this is the last request or demand I shall ever make of you. Curse that meddling [illegible] Madge Graham. If it hadn't been for her I could have carried my [illegible] loves and hates along with me where I'm going. As it is, I've got to go along so I might as well do 'my one good deed today' before I shuffle off. Therefore my permission to use the plausible letter but I can't let you off the stipulation that dearest Katherine must read all the rest. So long. Lucia."

Blanche Sweet in The Lady from Hell
Scotch Fighters Inspire Title
"The Lady from Hell" is taken from the nickname given the kilted soldiers by the Germans during the war. When the Highlanders charged across No Man's Land in the red glare and the Germans saw these strange short skirted figures plunging toward them they called the kilted fighters "Ladies from Hell" and beat a rapid retreat.
In the movie by this name one of these fighters has come to America after the war and is foreman on a ranch in Wyoming when an amazing series of events draws him out to routine through several reels of the most thrilling episodes ever recorded in celluloid. The picture is a dramatization of the popular story "My Lord of the Double B" by Norton S Parker. Roy Stewart plays opposite Blanche Sweet.

IVE CROSSINGS IN BIG FOUR RE REPAIRED

ocal Freight Business Good, Records Show; Other Railroad News

[illegible] main crossings and two minor [illegible] of the Big Four railroad [illegible] have been repaired and [illegible] during the last week. [illegible] at Oak-st and continuing [illegible] Mill-st, workmen have im[illegible] crossings, completing the [illegible] the narrow intersection near [illegible] end of the building occupied [illegible] Anicon Bros. and Co., today. [illegible] main intersections to [illegible] needed improvement so far [illegible] Oak-st intersection, the Prospect-st crossing, and the crossing at Main-st. Two minor improvements at alley crossings along Mill-st also have been completed.

The campaign for the betterment of crossings within the city limits of Marion began a week ago. Since that time section men have been constantly on the job and rapid progress has been made.

Kentucky Rock asphalt is being used in the repair work and forms a smooth path over the tracks.

Construction work on the Erie crossings also is under way and will continue until all intersections within the city limits are in good condition.

The Erie wreck train was called into service by the Hocking Valley in the local yards last night, when a Hocking Valley yard engine was derailed on the industrial track of the Pollak Steel Co.

The "wrecker" replaced the derailed locomotive in about 30 minutes. No through traffic was held up since the derailment occurred on an industrial track.

Although through freight in all parts of the country shows a great increase, officials of freight houses here said today that local freight has shown no undue increase during the last few months.

Local freight is usually rather light during the summer months but this year no decrease has been recorded with the advent of hot weather.

When asked concerning local freight the answer of freight agents in Marion was "about the same."

As a whole, by holding its own during the summer months so far, local freight has established a favorable record in Marion this year.

H. E. Rodenfels, general agent for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co., was a visitor in the freight offices of the Hocking Valley and Erie Railroads here yesterday.

C. C. Hurlbut, assistant chief engineer of construction on the Toledo division of the Hocking Valley Railroad, was a visitor in Marion yesterday. Mr. Hurlbut's headquarters is in Columbus.

Freight traffic through Marion over the Erie Railroad probably will be heavier than ever before next spring, according to plans of the officials of the company in the east.

The Erie Railroad Co., said to be the greatest freight carrier into New York City, has drawn plans for the construction of four 10-story buildings at Jersey City, in order to handle the enormous volume of traffic over the lines.

For the last few years the Erie has been confronted with the uneconomical feature of freight handling because of the limited means at the terminal in the eastern part of the country.

The first of the four buildings is expected to be completed by May 1, 1927, in time to handle the large fruit and vegetable shipments during the spring. It is estimated that at least 1,500 men will be employed in the new building at Jersey City.

Henry Rankin, value clerk of the local American Railway Express Co., is on his vacation.

Even a dull person sometimes shines in an emergency.

HISTORIC DRESSING ROOM STAR STILL SHINES

Lenore Ulric, most scintillant of present-day Belasco stars, is touching the famous dressing room star which has a history unique in theatrical annals. The star was first the property of William Charles Macready; then it passed to William Booth and for many years adorned his dressing room door. He gave it, at last, to [illegible] Winter who, in turn, passed it on to Belasco. Now it marks M[illegible]ric's dressing room door.

A man often does himself a favor by keeping on good terms with his neighbors.

Many a man who imagines that he could run the earth finds out that he can't ever manage a small garden successfully.

Every man's skeleton in the closet is his temptations; and it makes a clamorous rattling, sometimes.

There are optimists and pessimists; and now allowance is made for a middle ground, occupied by the enormous multitude who accept life as they find it.

Reading maketh a full man, said Lord Bacon, but thinking maketh a fuller one.

PLAINS WHY RE STORMS EEP EARTH

of Sun Spot Period ed by Scientists for Disturbances

THORNBURGH

July 9—Earthquakes and other meteoro which are sweep the world in an er are attributed by the approach of the which will reach its solar which discloses The sun is with billions of bolt —resulting in highly curious be- needle and many that are al magnetic condi

astrological expert Institution declared it possible that the sun responsible for the carefully pointed science have not deeply into the the sun to finally pro of the variations in the have progressed but Dr Abbott said Per in this generation will the final results be known—that is whether these radiations produce storms or irregular radio reception whether it will be possible to forecast weather for long periods in advance by the variability of the sun

Years of statistical information must be compiled that the sun's radiation may be interpreted with accuracy We are pioneering in a new field

Although at periods of sun spot maximum the sun gives off more heat these periods are as a rule accompanied by cooler weather

A cloud Dr Abbott continued is formed around a nucleus of electrical ions or dust It is natural that when the sun is showering the earth with a great volume of ions there is a tendency towards greater cloud concentrations The clouds reflect some of the sun's heat thus bringing cooler weather

Heavy rainfall is thus attributed to concentration of moisture in clouds

Variations of the sun's radiation and maintenance of a fairly even temperature on the earth are attributed by Dr Abbott partially to a thin layer of gas known as ozone which exists in the upper atmosphere

The ozone acts as a filter protecting the earth from rays of the sun shorter than the ultra violet waves and conversely prevent the escape from the terrestial atmosphere of rays longer than the infra red which form the other terminus of the known spectrum

CARD OF THANKS

Farmer Sustains Fractured Skull Putting Hay in Barn

Heavy Bag of Cement Strikes Frank E Hamilton, Hardin County

KENTON, July 9—Frank E. Hamilton, [illegible] prominent Hardin County farmer, is in the McKitrick Hospital here in a serious condition, suffering from a fracture of the skull sustained when a sack of [illegible] cement weighing 7[illegible] pounds fell 30 feet striking him on the head.

Attending physicians stated that Hamilton is expected to live. His condition early today showed improvement.

Hamilton was engaged in putting up hay when the accident occurred. The sack of cement was being used as a weight on the hay rope to pull back the fork after a load of hay had been dumped into the mow. When the weight was 30 feet into the air as the fork and its load were being lifted the rope suddenly snapped the heavy bag struck Hamilton.

Wife Sees Accident

Mrs Hamilton watching the operations from the window of their home was the first to reach her husband's side and called to his fellow workers who removed him to the hospital.

HARDIN COUNTY TEACHERS PLAN FALL MEETING

Will Invite Gov Donahey and Brooks Fletcher as Principal Speakers

Kenton, July 9—Governor Vic Donahey and Brooks Fletcher, Marion congressman from the eighth congressional district will be asked by the Hardin County Teachers' Association to address their first bi-monthly meeting of the year on September 1.

During the coming term the school teachers of the county plan four one day conferences and institutes to "talk shop" and to hear addresses by prominent educators and men high in public life, according to H O Hanna, county superintendent of schools.

The second of the series of meetings will be held early in November when J. L. Clifton, editor of the Ohio Educational Monthly and professor of education at Ohio State University, Columbus is to speak.

Organization of instructors in the county and the plan of holding bi-monthly meetings was inaugurated last year with success.

AUTO CLUB AT KENTON PLANS COUNTY DRIVE

Will Open Campaign for 300 Additional Members in Hardin County

Kenton, July 9—Formal organization of the Kenton Automobile Club with a membership of 130 auto owners will be completed within the near future upon receipt of the state charter recently granted the local club by the Ohio Automobile Association, according to announcement made today by Carl Price, temporary president.

An effort will be made to secure P. L. Baxter, Lima banker and president of the Lima Auto Club and Secretary H Barr of the Lima organization to address the opening meeting.

With the effecting of a permanent body a membership drive will be launched to enroll at least 300 members from over Hardin County.

One of the first official actions of the new organization will be that of pledging its co-operation with the city officials in the enforcement of traffic laws in Kenton. There is a possibility that they will also offer recommendations for modifying the present stop and go system in some details.

Membership cards are now being distributed to those who have enrolled in the club.

Mt. Gilead Kiwanis Lose Tilt to Crestline Soft Ball Nine 7 to 6; Prepare for Marion

Seventh Inning Proves Undoing of Morrow County Team To Break Tie Score and Win Second Game This Season; Easterners To Meet Marion Aggregation July 14

Mt Gilead, July 9—Mt Gilead's hope for the winning of the Intercity Kiwanis recreational ball race took a decided fall Wednesday night at the fairgrounds when the Crestline crew administered a 7 to 6 defeat.

The locals put up a game fight throughout, leading 5 to 4 at the end of the third inning and holding a tie score 6 to 6 in the fourth and fifth but were outpointed in the seventh after which no scoring was made by either team.

Errors Costly

Snappy field work made several of the innings short. Errors were plentiful on both sides and were especially costly to the locals.

Mt Gilead's bunched hits put over a scoring drive in the third, gathering four runs by Wieland, Whitney, Flavin and England.

E. B. "Bob" Wilson was especially dangerous to the Crestliners in the field and at bat and Tom England at shortstop and C. L. Schaaf at the initial sack were large factors in the defensive work.

Wieland Hurls

Wieland pitched throughout for the locals with McCarron behind the bat. Wieland registered two strikeouts.

Evans on the mound and Kime catching started for Crestline. [illegible] replaced Evans in the fourth frame.

The line up of each team: Mt Gilead—Whitney 3b, Wilson lf, Flavin 2b, England ss, Schaaf 1b, Talmadge cf, Miracle ss, Stauffer rf, McCarron c, Wieland p, Jensen for Stauffer. Crestline—Farris lf, Evans p, Burkhart 3b, Lyman ss, A. Renn 1b, J. Renn [illegible] Kime c.

[illegible] Mt Gilead [illegible] to Marion [illegible] the Marion [illegible] Kiwanis [illegible] a seven [illegible] manager here [illegible] by [illegible] Marion crew.

LOOP PRESIDENT RAPS NINES FOR BREAKING RULES

Meeker Cubs Are Awarded Championship After Winning 10 Consecutive Games

Agosta, July 9—The remaining games scheduled in the Tri-County Baseball League were officially called off here today by David E. Kale, president of the league and starting Sunday, July 11, the teams making up the league will play independent games.

This abrupt end to the Tri-County League comes after more than two months of play.

Disregard Rules

In a statement issued here today Kale declared that the league schedule would be abandoned and league play discontinued as a result of several of the teams' failure to observe the league rules.

Several of the teams have filed complaints that their scheduled opponents would fail to show up at various Sundays for return games.

Claridon Withdraws

Claridon withdrew from the league a week ago when Manager Fetter declared that his actions was prompted by failure of other teams to keep their scheduled games.

By virtue of 10 victories and no defeats the Meeker Club will be awarded the Tri-County championship for the season. The Cubs had but four games to play to complete their league schedule.

League Standing

Other teams in the league finished in the following order: Claridon, Summerville Reds, Thompson Giants, Agosta Independents, Lenox Farmer, Brush Ridge and Bethlehem Stars.

Kale, who is also manager of the Agosta team announced today that he would endeavor to schedule independent teams for games at Agosta every Sunday for the remainder of the season.

that large savings in the cost of goods are to be had when ordered in large quantities. A $1,000,000 order for Shoes, for example, will buy each pair at a far lower price than if a comparatively few pairs are ordered.

Buying for 745 Department Stores means unusually large orders, always commanding the lowest possible cost consistent with the high standard of quality we insist upon.

Selling for cash only and thus having the cash to pay the manufacturer, we always get the added discounts which cash-buying obtains.

Manufacturers, as is easily understandable, are glad to go to extremes in putting such quality of materials, finish and workmanship into the goods ordered in such large quantities by us for only by producing goods that measure strictly up to our high standard can they hope to obtain further orders.

This means much to you! In our peerless buying power rests a saving power for you which is not duplicated. You can verify the superior quality and savings to be had at this Store; at any J. C. Penney Company Store wherever it may be located, by making comparisons whenever most convenient to you.

Mrs William Owens In Marion Hospital Today as Result of Crash

Upper Sandusky July 9—Mrs William Owens 50 is in a critical condition in Marion Hospital today where [illegible] and Benjamin Swartz [illegible] in an auto-buggy accident [illegible] here recovering from [illegible] when the Swartz car [illegible] buggy

The accident occurred about 9 30 [illegible] on the Forest road just [illegible] Wyandot Clay Products Co [illegible] the city limits here. Owens and wife were driving west in an open [illegible] when they were struck by [illegible] driven by Swartz 22 also of [illegible]

[illegible] struck the side of the buggy, [illegible] the occupants out and totally [illegible] the buggy. The car was [illegible] with the force of the impact [illegible] the ditch into a tele[illegible] [illegible] the front wheels [illegible] the radiator and wind[illegible]

Horse Drags Man

Owens [illegible] the reins of the horse [illegible] was unninjured and was dragged some distance. His left shoulder was badly wrenched and his body bruised.

Mrs Owens was thrown at the edge of the road where she remained in a semi-conscious condition until passing motorists rushed her to a physician. An X-ray disclosed six ribs broken on the left side her left arm was severely cut and her whole body bruised and cut. She was taken to the Marion Hospital about midnight

Swartz received a gash above the left wrist requiring five stitches to close it and severe lacerations about the face

Buggy Without Light

Swartz who is employed at the Wyandot Products Co stated that he was coming into town about 45 miles an hour that he had just dimmed for a passing auto and that as the buggy carried no light he did not see it until he had struck the side

Owens said that he had neglected that night to put a light on the buggy, but that he was driving half off the road on the side. Mr and Mrs Owens had just come to town to purchase some groceries and were returning to the Beesinger farm two and one half miles east of the city, where they reside at present their home being in South Park. JONES WILL WIN OPEN TITLE, SAYS WALSH

Claims Mehlhorn's Showing at Start of National Golf Meet Only "Flash in Pan"

British Open Champion Expected To Face Walter Hagen in Finals of Tournament Saturday, Bobby Plays Steady Golf in First Day's Competition

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

SCIOTO Country Club, Columbus, O., July 9.—Bobby Jones will win the National Open golf championship. This opinion was [illegible] the writer today with 54 holes remaining [illegible] field of 151 golfers and the championship [illegible] of them would sell his immortal soul.

[illegible] Walt Bill Mehlhorn [illegible] But [illegible] no record [illegible] Likewise [illegible] upon the performance [illegible] of [illegible] and equalling [illegible] make [illegible] scarcely [illegible] any [illegible]

Bobby in Form

Bobby yesterday was [illegible] the same kind of golf that won him the British Open championship. He [illegible] with the nonchalance of a collector [illegible] explaining that his grandmother had unfortunately died on the eve of the world's series.

Although there were several sterling golfers [illegible] between [illegible] Jones and his 70 and Walter Hagen and his 74 there was no doubt that the [illegible] was likely to be Jones and [illegible] like steadiness against [illegible] sensational competition [illegible] for the championship on Saturday.

Al Espinosa [illegible] of New York [illegible] each as a result of their [illegible] [illegible] or Joe.

MacFarlane Dangerous

Willie MacFarlane and four [illegible] of [illegible] 72s. Willie is dangerous [illegible] you don't think [illegible] bet that [illegible] dust is [illegible] So is Leo Diegel for that matter. He too managed a 72 [illegible] Williams Pat Doyle or J. [illegible] and, who also [illegible] the course in even figures [illegible] clock tomorrow the situation will be quite opaque.

Another man in a strategic position was Freddie McLeod of Washington. Freddie [illegible] 71 for the first day's play. He was one of the hottest [illegible] on this tournament. So hot was he that [illegible] bookies declined to take further bets against Freddie the night before the tournament opened. The 71 was regarded as having done him little harm if any.

Amateurs Hopeless

Few of the [illegible] favorites were as fortunate as McLeod. For instance, [illegible] golf can reclaim Jock Hutchinson's 84 or Harry Cooper's 81 or for that matter the 77s of Bob McDonald and Jim Barnes. Gene Sarazen's 78 [illegible]

BOXING EXPERTS BERATE SLATTERY

NEW YORK, July 9.—Boxing experts were united today in declaring that Jimmy Slattery, the pride of Buffalo, has passed out of the picture as a possible winner of the middleweight or light heavyweight title. Making his first appearance here last night since his return from Europe, Slattery won the decision over Bob Sage of Detroit in a ten round bout but was only a shadow of the Slattery who a year ago was hailed as another Jim Corbett.

TRADES HORSE AND COW FOR CHILDREN, JAILED

New York State Man Unable To See Why He Is Now Locked Up

[illegible] N Y, July 9—George Shaw, a Chenango county farmer, is at Matteawan [illegible] because he did not think it wrong to buy three children for a horse, a cow and three [illegible]

The Shaw children [illegible] Belle Thornington [illegible] Thornington, 9, who has since [illegible] were children of a hill farmer. Their father, who is now in jail for his part in the child-for-cow trade, thought nothing unusual of the [illegible] which Shaw made three years [illegible]

Shaw was living a bachelor's life on a hardscrabble farm. He had no friends and no companions, and proposed to the Thorningtons that the children be permitted to live with him to help in the [illegible] and [illegible] the same time to be his companions.

[illegible] the bargain Shaw gave Thornington the horse, the cow, [illegible] with a few [illegible] Mrs Thornington [illegible]

County officials heard of rumors of conditions at the Shaw home [illegible] children [illegible] investigated and [illegible] the details of the child swapping [illegible]

Shaw was indicted by the grand jury in October 1925 and held in $1,000 [illegible] which he provided in cash. Then Shaw disappeared. No trace of him was found until this spring, when he was found working on a farm [illegible] name [illegible] Brown.

Shaw's behavior in prison while he has been awaiting trial convinced officials that his mind was unb[illegible] Shaw has been unable to give information about himself or his relatives [illegible] has only a vague idea of why he was held in jail.

The Thornington children are in institutions and have been going to school to make up for lost years.

JIM DUGAN

President Practical Joker, Makes Touch from Sleuths

BY GEORGE E. DURNO

Washington, July 9—President Coolidge, as has been oftimes recorded, carries little pocket money with him and on occasion has been forced to borrow trifling sums from secret service men accompanying him for the purchase of newspapers, magazines, etc. These men who have financed these purchases, however, are beginning to suspect that the executive deliberately borrows nickels and dimes for the sake of practical jokes which he conceives in repaying the loans.

Recently, the President was "in" to Dick Jervis, debonaire chief of the White House Secret Service Detail, to the extent of 25 cents, borrowed a nickel at a time. One morning Dick arrived at the White House shortly after 10 o'clock to be informed that from 8:30 on Mr. Coolidge had been inquiring for him at 15 minute intervals.

Such urgent and repeated summons worried Dick. Something of great moment must have happened, or some important matter was about to come up, he thought.

Such urgent and repeated summons worried Dick. Something of great moment must have happened, or some important matter was about to come up, he thought.

With fair amount of apprehension, Jervis entered the President's office. Mr. Coolidge looked up solemnly from his work, thrust his hand into his pocket and pulled out a quarter and handed it to Dick, then continued with his work not saying a word.

This incident worried Dick for some time until he remembered that he had bought the president papers and magazines on several of the nightly walks.

Another time, the president owed Arnold Landvoight, also a secret service operative, five cents. Calculating Landvoight's [illegible] reaction to a [illegible], and [illegible] the whole in his story, Mr. Coolidge dispatched an usher down stairs [illegible] with a dime.

"Give it to Landvoight," he instructed, "and tell him he may keep the change."

Landvoight's efforts to get the usher to return the extra nickel were unavailing.

BULGARIAN DOCTORS ON HUNT FOR CURES HERE

Atlanta, Ga., July 9—Interest of the medical world will be focused on the red old hills of Georgia for the next three months, as Dr. Alexander Michailoff, director of the Bulgarian Institute of Bacteriology, makes a study of Georgia's methods of combatting the ravages of tuberculosis and infant mortality.

The Bulgarian bacteriologist in hope of finding a successful method of fighting the disease in his native land, came to Georgia after a short stay in Johns Hopkins, and as the guest of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Besides Dr. Michailoff, four other Bulgarian doctors are in the United States at present, making a study of other phases of medical science. Two are in Boston and two are in New York.

Life is two-thirds waiting; and the [illegible] includes too much planning.

JUDGE IS MERCIFUL TO MAN ABOUT TO MARRY

New York, July 9—Justice can be sentimental.

Hyman Sattler received a wedding present from the court after pleading guilty of violating the Volstead Act and explaining wistfully that he was about to get married.

"You needn't bring him before me again until he's married," said Federal Judge Campbell commuting Sattler's $100 fine. "Let him go through one trouble at a time."

FAMOUS CIRCUS CLOWN WILL BECOME CITIZEN

Salem, Mass., July 9—Edwin (Poodles) Hannaford, famous circus clown, is going to become a citizen of this country. He has applied for first papers here, and he has selected Lynn as his home-to-be.

Accompanied by Representative Tony A. Garafano and Mrs. Isabelle D. MacLean, Lynn supervisor of Americanization, Hannaford came here from the circus lot in Lynn to apply for his papers. He gave his original home as Barnsley, England, and said he came to America in March, 1912.

First Choice of the Nation!

High quality made Buckeye the leading malt extract of the country. High quality consistently held to is daily making for it new gains in popularity.

How else could Buckeye have won, and held for seven years, first place in volume of sales?

Try Buckeye — not because it is guaranteed (though it is)—not because it is the leading brand (it is that, too)—nor because it is the seasoned product of a half century's expert improving (and it is). Try it because of its richness, its extraordinary flavor, its wholesome, healthful purity.

By actual experiment it has been found that the 2½ pound can of Buckeye is much to be preferred to 3 pound cans of ordinary malts.

FOUR ENLISTMENTS ARE RECEIVED BY COMPANY

Quota Will Be Filled by Saturday Night, Lieutenant O'Dowd Says

Four enlistments have been received by Machine Gun Company [illegible] 166th Infantry in its drive for [illegible] members this week.

The announcement was made [illegible] by Second Lieutenant Frank J. O'Dowd, recruiting officer of Company [illegible] was in charge of the [illegible] ing assisted by the [illegible] officers of the [illegible] He [illegible] reach the [illegible] Saturday [illegible]

Public [illegible] will be held at [illegible] Junior High School [illegible] afternoon [illegible] as was previously announced.

At the [illegible] desires will have the opportunity [illegible] fire the machine gun [illegible] company. A special machine gun instructor [illegible] 166th Infantry will assist the local officers in the demonstration.

NEW PHONE DIRECTORIES ARE ISSUED IN MARION

New telephone directories were issued today by the Marion County Telephone Co.

The new directory is compiled in much the same manner as the [illegible] book. It contains 10[illegible] pages of names of subscribers and telephone numbers. Marion, Marion County, Morral Village, Morral Country, Green Camp Village, Green Camp Country, Waldo Village, Waldo Country, Caledonia, Adelaide Kirkpatrick, [illegible] Exchange, [illegible] and New Winchester are included in the directory.

The last pages are devoted to a classified directory list.

CONDITION CRITICAL

The condition of Frank D. Padlock, Pearl st, who underwent an abdominal operation a week ago at Grant Hospital, Columbus, is reported critical according to word received by friends here today.

Part of the excitement is in not being able to afford it, but doing it any way.

Cursing sounds so cheap—especially on the lips of a man who never says anything smart anyway.

Every single one of them...

NOT a fly lives—not a single mosquito breathes again—not a roach survives—after you shoot BLACK FLAG around the house. This deadliest of insect-killers gets them all—leaves not one alive!

None escapes—because BLACK FLAG kills in a new way. This master destroyer of insect life contains a secret ingredient—the surest death ever discovered for pests. Bugs simply breathe it and die. They strangle! But BLACK FLAG is absolutely harmless to humans and animals.

All bugs look alike to BLACK FLAG. It will kill every kind of pest which invades the home. More—it will completely rid a place of fleas, ants, bed bugs, roaches, moths. It kills every single bug which gets in. It keeps others from coming in. Try this better, surer insect-killer. It comes in both liquid and powder forms. At drug, grocery, hardware and department stores. Powder is 15c up. Powder Gun, 10c. As for the low liquid prices, read them below. Make your own comparisons.

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH — W. K. Kellogg

Eat wisely and feel well

HOT weather's no time for hot, heavy foods. Start the day with crisp Kellogg's Corn Flakes.

They keep you cool and fit these summer days. Light and easily digested.

Kellogg's are the genuine, original corn flakes. Never tough-thick. Never leathery.

Serve them for luncheon—for the kiddies' evening meal. With milk or cream. Fresh or preserved fruit.

Sold by grocers. Served at all hotels and restaurants.

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

Oven-fresh ALWAYS in Kellogg's patented inner-sealed waxtite wrapper

Imitations cannot bring you such wonder flavor—such crisp crunchy flakes. The genuine corn flakes have the signature of the originator on the package

Severe sunburn caused intense pain

Skin so sore could not touch it

Resinol heals

Seven Mile, Ohio, Feb 11—"I am a farmer and am out-of-doors all my working hours. During harvest time last year I became badly sunburned about the face, neck and arms. They were so irritated and pained so intensely I could hardly stand anything touching them. I tried various remedies but nothing did me any good until I tried Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. I was relieved by the first application and by the time the first jar of ointment and cake of soap were gone my sunburn had vanished. I am always a booster for Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment." LONG DISPUTE ENDED BY NEW MOSUL TREATY

British Evacuation of Mesopatamia Will Be Facilitated by Move

London July 9—The Mosul Treaty of peace recently signed between Great Britain and Turkey inaugurates a new era which is expected to facilitate the British evacuation of Mesopatamia by 1929 or before. It settles the long and dangerous dispute between Britain and Turkey concerning the final delimitation of the boundary between Turkey and Mesopatamia

The definite frontier to which the Angora government has now agreed follows the so-called Brussel line laid down by the League of Nations in 1924 although in places Turkey secures a substantial modification in her favor

Mosul and its oilfields remain in Mesopatamia and under British supervision until the British mandate ends

Turkey will receive as a reward for any loss of amour propre and territory ten per cent of the royalties payable to the Mesopatamia by the international syndicate (composed of American British French and Dutch interests) for their enjoyment of the oil concession. On the other hand if it wishes the Turkish government has the right within the next three years to capitalize its percentage for two and a half million dollars

From the Turkish point of view the chief feature of the treaty is not that it puts her again on a footing of goodwill with Britain and restores the old commercial intercourse but by giving her a powerful friend in Europe it adds to her international status and frees her from the menace of an Italian or Italo Greek attack

SHARP DECLINE SHOWN AS STOCK MART CLOSES

United States Steel Drops Two and Five-Eighths Points Other Slumps

By W S COUSINS

New York July 9—Sharp declines were recorded in the stock market at the close today. U S Steel dropped 1⅝ point to 138¼ new low round for the week. Mack Truck slumped 2¾ to 115½. General Motors declined 1¼ to 148. American Can also declined 1¼ to 1¾ and Consolidated Gas fell off to 101¾ a drop of 1½ points

The week finished in a fairly active and strong market after the [illegible] hour. Earlier in the day however the market showed [illegible] tendencies in several quarters

SUPER REAL ESTATE SERVICE

NORTHWEST CORNER STATE AND GEORGE STREETS—An 8 room house in good condition on lot 66x165 feet with room for two extra houses. Right in town. Must be sold to settle estate. With impending commercial developments in Marion this property will show a substantial profit soon. Can trade down

WEST CENTER STREET FRONTAGE—Near Harding Hotel. Lot 66x192. Has two income houses. This property at $550 a foot is cheaper by $100 than adjacent frontage. This property has increased in value from $6 800 to $35 000 in past few years and will climb steadily to $50,000 or better inside of three years. This is as good as a Florida investment. If you have never looked into West Center Street frontage, let me tell you something about it, or ask R. T. Lewis. He knows likewise.

SOUTH PEARL STREET—A wonderful, well built 8-room house. Owners leaving town. Price $[illegible]. Shown by appointment.

Today In Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Strawberries were scarce in Marion produce markets today. The berries found however were steady at the price asked on them yesterday, 20 cents a quart. The grade of the berries today is lower than ever before. It looks like berries to be off the market next week

Currants and cherries show [illegible] and prices are generally cheaper than yesterday. The former retailed at [illegible] cents a quart, two cents lower than the last price quotation. The cherries were set at 15 cents a quart in nearly all markets

Gooseberries were selling at [illegible] prices [illegible] fruit [illegible] of the [illegible]. A majority of the vendors [illegible] the berries at 15 cents while [illegible] [illegible] high at 20 cents. Huckleberries and [illegible]berries have faded out of the market entirely

Two Grades of Apples

Two grades of apples are on most market counters at present, both [illegible] best seasons product. The Yellow Transparent appeared to be the best seller although the Wine Sap is [illegible]. Both were retailing at three pounds for 25 cents in some markets while the general price was 10 cents a pound

Butter today was marked 1 cent in advance of yesterday's quotation, 44 cents a pound. A lower price is expected on butter by a special Saturday sale

Best price on cauliflower was lowered from 30 to 40 cents in a few markets with a new shipment. The usual quotation is steady at 30 cents. Cabbages were available at seven cents a pound for the average grade and [illegible] cents for the best grade. Low prices [illegible] [illegible] cents

Head lettuce moved up slightly and sold today at 20 cents a head for the very best grade. Other prices were 10 and 15 cents a head. Leaf variety was unchanged
